Licenses/Permits

The Clones Erne East Angling Centre is bisected by the border. Coarse fishing on the lakes and rivers in the Clones Area is all free of charge. Licenses can be obtained from various outlets or on-line at www.nidirect.gov.uk/angling-licences-and-permits

Regulations

A Catch & Release policy is actively promoted at all fisheries across Ireland where all fish should be safely returned to the water.

Angling laws include;

- A person my not fish with any more than two rods at one time
- The transfer of fish from one water to another is prohibited
- The only method to catch freshwater fish is by rod & line
- It is illegal to use or possess live fish bait
- Eel fishing is closed

Ireland probably has the best natural angling waters in Europe in rural surroundings. Please respect this environment and take your litter home.

Clones Erne East Blackwater Rural Regeneration Project

Angling Capital Works Programme

Through the Clones Erne East Blackwater Rural Regeneration Project a large capital works programme aimed at encouraging visitors to the region has recently been completed. This project is part-financed by the European Union's INTERREG IVA Programme managed by the Special EU Programmes Body.

A key element of this capital works programme has been the upgrading of a number of lakes in the region.

So when visiting why not try out these previously lesser known waters?

Game Angling in the Region

There is a limited amount of game fishing in the Clones area and most of this is controlled by the local angling association who will advise on access and permits. From Scarvy Bridge to its upper limits, the River Finn is undoubtedly a trout system albeit of limited capacity with good trout spawning and rearing streams in the upper reaches.

The Clones Trout Anglers Association stock the Clones Reservoir annually and operate it as a put-and-take fishery.

In Erne East game fishing Lakes include Lough Corry and Lough Coranny, which are seen as important loughs for Trout in this area.

The River Blackwater, as well as its tributaries, is renowned for its excellent stock of Brown Trout, Salmon and Dollaghan (the native Trout of Lough Neagh). Key game angling venues would include:
River Blackwater (Salmon, Brown Trout and Dollaghan), Seagahan (brown trout), Lowry's Lake (Brown Trout , Rainbow Trout).

Festivals and Events

The region hosts some of the coarse angling festivals unique to Ireland. The Irish welcome, great match fishing and camaraderie on the bank makes them very popular indeed.

Coarse Angling in the Region

The Clones Erne East Blackwater region covers a large area and a plethora of lakes and rivers. The rivers and lakes featured here as coarse angling centres contain the commonly found coarse fish species of bream, roach, rudd, hybrids, pike, perch and eels. Waters containing additional species such as tench are noted where appropriate. Clones provides a variety of good small lakes with angling stands developed for the pleasure angler. There are also a number of lightly fished smaller waters, many yet undiscovered, which are ideal for those with a small portable boat or float tube.

The River Finn which interweaves the border is recognised as an excellent coarse fishery and offers 50 pegs for the match angler. The maze of interconnected lakes that make up the Erne system and the Dromore system offer some quality match fishing locations.

The lowland River Blackwater region provides miles of excellent river fishing. Of particular note are Creeve Lough, (Bream, Roach, Perch, Tench, Pike and Eels) and Lough Enagh, close to Caledon (Bream, Roach, Perch, Hybrids, Tench, Pike and Eels).

Welcome/Fáilte

The Clones Erne East Blackwater Region encapsulates some really good wild and natural angling waters with venues for both the pleasure and match angler in beautiful rural surroundings. It is fortunate to be part of the Erne catchment and Dromore system and includes the Finn and Blackwater Rivers providing a multitude of locations for the keen angler. There is no closed season for coarse angling in Ireland and Roach, Hybrids, Perch, Pike, Bream, Tench and Rudd are all in good supply in the area. The region provides plenty of solitude and lightly fished unspoiled water.
